

Light Up The Dark
WASHINGTON PROJECTS

Chorus

Moving out of death, moving into life. Try to pull me left watch me pull a right.
Tired of the pain, tired of the games. Dear Lord, give me the strength so I can turn my light on. (Light up the dark.) Turn my light on. (Light up the dark.) Turn my light on (Light up the dark, Light up the dark Light up the dark.)

Verse 1

Tell me, what's hiding behind your shadow lurking in the dark? Or are you afraid to find out who you really are? Cause facing yourself is harder than your ever thought it would be, watch and you'll see. Tell me, will you ever stop the blending in and be yourself? Quit hiding your light and take your dreams up off the shelf cause He has a plan that's made for you and no one else. If you got a mission then take your position cause oh.

Chorus

Moving out of death, moving into life. Try to pull me left watch me pull a right.
Tired of the pain, tired of the games. Dear Lord, give me the strength so I can turn my light on. (Light up the dark.) Turn my light on. (Light up the dark.) Turn

Verse 2

This little light ain't powered by a Duracell or Energizer but He done conquered hell and conquered death when He walked the earth. I was purified, white snow now I know my worth. And they said that I ain't a true Christian cause the word unique describes my mission. It's all right, I'm okay I don't take it to heart. When they hate it confirms that I'm doin my part. I'ma rock stages, I'ma get crazy, all the glory to God when them people pay me, see I keep it real too many sugarcoat it, this is my mission and my job, keep your mind open. This traditional thinking has got the church in shambles and it's the reason these kids would rather turn the channel, and it's the reason these kids would rather turn the station. Cause they're just begging for variety in what you're playin DJ.

Chorus

Moving out of death, moving into life. Try to pull me left watch me pull a right.
Tired of the pain, tired of the games. Dear Lord, give me the strength so I can turn my light on. (Light up the dark.) Turn my light on. (Light up the dark.) Turn
